Outing Regent Prince Paul and the cabinet that signed the recent treaty with the Axis, 17-year-old King Peter II has assumed full control of the government of turbulent Yugoslavia—six months before his 18th birthday when he was scheduled to ascend the throne. Full military powers were given to Gen. Dusan Simovic, chief of staff of the Yugoslav army, and the post of vice premier went to Vladimir Macek, leader of the Croatian minority and opponent of the Axis pact. Some reports said that Prince Paul, ex-Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic and ex-Foreign Minister Alexander Cincar-Marcovic were placed under arrest; others that they had fled the country.

Resume U.S. Steel Wage Negotiations

Extend Contract Until April 8

Hopes Are Increased For Early Settlement Of Wage Demands

COAL SITUATION IS STILL OMINOUS

By WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
PITTSBURGH, March 28.—“Big steel” and the CIO returned to their wage-hour conference table in an air of fresh optimism today, having wiped out the threat of a dual steel-coal April 1 shutdown by continuing their present contract until April 8.

Hopes increased that this spelled an early compromise on demands of the steel workers organizing committee, busy with membership drives on all other fronts.

From the final settlement for the U. S. Steel Corporation subsidiaries will come the pattern for the independents with whom the S. W. O. C. also has contracts.

Still ominous was the outlook for the soft coal industry. Without agreement on a new contract, or a work extension similar to steel, the bituminous industry continued to face a walkout of Appalachian field miners at midnight Monday, March 31.

The operators already have rejected a United Mine Workers proposal for a work-continuance pending an agreement.

MEDIATION BOARD TO ISSUE 'BACK TO WORK' APPEALS TO STRIKERS

and a member of the mediation board, CIO President Phil Murray, clashed over the No. 1 issue in America today—whether workers can call strikes that halt rearmament production “vital to the safety of the nation.”

Amid growing congressional demands for a quick end to national defense strikes, Knudsen sent a second “appeal to patriotism” to Murray calling for a halt in the CIO strike at the Allis-Chalmers plant at Milwaukee, which has tied up $45,000,000 worth of army and navy orders.

Knudsen branded the strike as “entirely unreasonable” and charged that the original strike vote which caused the 65-day walkout was “obtained by fraudulent means.”

Knudsen had wired CIO strike leaders at Milwaukee Wednesday asking for quick reopening of the Allis-Chalmers plant. Murray yesterday wired back asking what authority Knudsen had to take such a step.

Knudsen in return sent a telegram to Murray denying his appeal was an ultimatum. The O. P. M. chief said it was “an appeal to patriotism.” To that he added that “such an appeal should be far more compelling to American citizens than any peremptory order.”

rect attitude are the fundamental elements which will ensure the success of our work.”

To prevent further riotous demonstrations and to calm Belgrade down, the commander of the capital issued a formal order prohibiting public meetings and demonstrations and the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Authorities confirmed that all members of the Cvetkovic cabinet, which resigned en masse yesterday before Peter assumed the throne, had been placed under arrest.

EDITOR'S NOTE: A British radio broadcast picked up by N.B.C. said former Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic and former Foreign Minister Alexander Cincar-Marovic, who signed the Axis pact at Vienna, had been released from jail in Belgrade.

The Yugoslavian (Avala) news agency announced that former Regent Prince Paul and members of his family had departed for Athens last night in accordance with his own wishes. Prince Paul resigned with the Cvetkovic cabinet when Peter took charge of the nation.

The latest press comment was still uncommunicative regarding the sensational coup.

Serbian Loyal

The pro-Nazi newspaper Vreme said the Serbians “remain loyal to their friends” and the newspaper Politika emphasized the “Sino-Slavic” government at last has established a link between the state and the Serbia which hitherto was said to have been missing.

While the government cloaked its intentions in temporary secrecy, it was apparent that Balkan “zero hour” is approaching, and that its result may hinge upon the final decision of young King Peter and his new cabinet ministers.

Some reports said the government was framing a reply to a German note which some quarters described as a virtual “ultimatum.”

Tension mounted as the government deployed troops to defensive border positions—and German forces reportedly moved to positions in Bulgaria and Rumania adjoining Yugoslavia's frontiers.

Arrest Nazi Propagandists

When the coup was accomplished early yesterday morning, practically without bloodshed, agents of the new regime arrested many propagandists in the pay of the Axis powers, notably directors of the Avala news agency and of the pro-Nazi newspaper Vreme.

Young King Peter rode through the streets of the capital amid scenes of unparalleled enthusiasm. Yugoslavs cheered him to the echo and shouted:

“We can't be worse off than Greece. It is better to be in our graves than slaves.”

After the German ambassador demanded an immediate definition of the new government's foreign policy, elaborate protective precautions were taken in Belgrade.

Troops guarded approaches to public buildings and to the United States, British, German and Italian legations.

King Peter formally took the royal oath in the palace chapel today from Patriarch Gavril of the Orthodox church. Government officials, diplomats and bishops participated in the solemn ceremony.

Crowds outside the palace gates cheered British and American diplomats and hooted at Viktor van Heeren, the German minister.

The German air attaché and a number of other Germans and Italians were beaten up by mobs, and taken to reports. All pro-Nazis in high positions were dismissed, and most Germans spent the night in the heavily-guarded legation.

They also held the German government will hold the Yugoslav government responsible for the consequences of any further anti-German outbreaks.

Army Is Ready

The warning to Belgrade, where widespread anti-German demonstrations were stated to have occurred last night, was accompanied by authoritative statements that the German army in the Balkans is “ready to deal with all emergencies.”

These quarters pointed out the German forces in the Balkans have a “matchless strategic position against Yugoslavia” as a result of occupation of Rumania and Bulgaria by German troops.

Furthermore, it was pointed out, Italian troops are stationed in force to the north of Yugoslavia.

Deny Pact Cancelled

BERLIN, March 28.—A spokesman for the German propaganda ministry today flatly denied reports published abroad that Yugoslavia has accepted cancelled her adhesion to the tripartite pact.

A few minutes before 3 p.m. (8 a.m. EST), the spokesman emphasized that the new Yugoslavian regime so far has not communicated with Germany regarding Belgrade's intentions toward the pact.

Anger In Berlin

BERLIN, March 28.—Yugoslavia's delay in making known her aims and intentions with regard to the tripartite alliance led to a mounting tide of anger in Berlin late today.

The government of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler lodged a sharp protest in Belgrade over anti-German incidents which occurred during the coup d'etat by which King Peter ousted the ministers who had signed with the Axis and installed a military and apparently war-ready regime.

“Drastic developments” were threatened unless King Peter speedily assures Berlin that his new government will respect, in letter and spirit, the pact signed on Tuesday in Vienna by former Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic and Foreign Minister Alexander Cincar-Marovic, who are now under arrest.

Up to a late hour this afternoon, the Yugoslavian government had not formally advised Berlin of its decision.

Among the odd occupations discovered by census-takers during 1940 were fishworm rancher, whistle-tester, ham-sniffer and egg-breaker.

ferences which might arise be settled by arbitration rather than by walkout.

Rees, a New Castle boy, began his start on his successful railroad career as a machinist and was one of the early members of Local 166, composed of employees of the B. & O. railroad. He recalled the struggles of the union, when there were times that looked dark indeed, but that somehow they had always managed to weather these storms and emerge bigger and stronger than ever. He was given a big hand by the men here.

Erwin, chairman of trustees; Joseph Heaney, trustee; Jack Jenkins, treasurer; George Broadbeck, financial secretary; Richard Morganti, past president; Sam DeLisio, sergeant and conductor; and John Lombardo, trustee. All were present with the exception of Brown, who is ill.

Mr. Muldoon asserted he was unable to give council a definite answer today because he claimed that the situation as presented by the city Thursday and this morning had changed somewhat, else he had a wrong interpretation of what the city proposed to do.

These quarters said that if, on the other hand, there is no change in Yugoslav foreign policy Greece will probably remain the “next objective on Germany's list.”

Official Axis quarters still withheld comment on the Yugoslav coup pending clarification of the situation and Bulgarian newspapers merely published the bare fact but drew no conclusions.

But the first reaction of the man in the street was a pessimistic one, and one experienced Balkan observer commented:

“Even if the Yugoslav government does respect the tripartite pact, the situation still is charged with explosives.”

"Easter Parade" Notes Trend Of Times Influences Styles

America salutes the women today, in the realm of fashion, style and color, creating new attire for the Easter parade, tea time and casual dresses and evening attire, with "trends of the world" influencing designers in accentuating intriguing notes in their creations, making Miss America the smartest dressed woman today! And so, the Easter parade launching the season given under the auspices of the Business and Professional Woman's Club on Thursday evening, at the Strouss-Hirschberg Company, attracted a capacity attendance of enthusiastic guests numbering several hundred.

Fashions were shown for adults, the Junior Miss, teen age and little tots, the models passing in review around a "double promenade" that was attractively arranged. Miss Ann Patterson was commentator, who told of the featured notes created for the women in 1941, with fashions reaching a "new high" in color, fabrics and style!

The "Good Neighbor" policies of our government, seemingly have much effect on the market of fashion, with the military note being most outstanding in practically all types of attire. South America plays a important part with the rumba in carman red and warm earthy colors for daytime and evening wear, the ever popular bolero claiming its place and the congo skirt in gay prints; candy stripes in formal wear are also "comers" for the evening dancing party. From the Chinese we have borrowed trim squared off coats and the new pagoda hats—Sports-wear is typically American with jacket suits the rage! Skirts cater to smooth hiplines with fullness gained through plaits of all types. Plain skirts with plaid jackets in pastels are worn with tailored shirt waists patterned with plunging necklines. Delectable sheers in sentimental pink are truly feminine—Off the face hats and large brims are being shown along with the

"Like every Bride I wanted a Lovelier Skin... and Camay helped me to have one"

—says Mrs. James L. Macwithey

Camay's greater mildness is an important help to every woman — even to many women with dry and delicate skin.

MRS. MACWITHEY is lovely to look at, and she gains in loveliness because her skin is lovely, too. Her blonde hair and her bright brown eyes set off a skin of creamy perfection.

Mrs. Macwithey cleanses her skin with Camay. She is keen about its mildness—about its gentle creamy lather. "Camay is so mild," she says, "it is just wonderful for delicate skins like mine." Many lovely women feel that way about Camay, especially if they have a tendency toward a delicate or dry skin.

For now a great new improvement makes Camay milder than six of the other leading large-selling beauty soaps, as tests made in the great Procter & Gamble laboratories prove. And skin specialists we asked say that regular cleansing with a fine, mild toilet soap will help your skin to look lovelier.

Camay now comes in two sizes

Try the new BATH SIZE Camay. It will make a hit with every member of your family. It's the same new improved Camay in a larger, more economical size.

Bath Size Camay is more than half again as large as the regular complexion cake... gives you more than half again as much of this fragrant, free-lathering soap. Yet it sells at a popular low price, at a saving to you. Get a few cakes from your dealer today.

A PROSPECT THAT PLEASES

THIS is the time of year when the ardent gardener will begin to concern himself with the problems that lie in the offing. He will experience, to begin with, an urge to get out in the yard with a rake, but determining in his own mind upon due consideration that it is a little too early for practical operations, he will devote himself to the theory of the business.

In his mind's eye the garden of the spring and summer will assume form. First, of course, there will be the gay army of tulips, a beautiful prelude to a changing and ever thrilling pageant. Then the annuals and perennials will make their appearance. Running along the back of the bed will be the tall-growing cosmos and room will be found, of course, for the old standbys, zinnias, and for asters and scabiosa, ageratum, calendulas and larkspur, petunias and marigold, snapdragon and countless other flowers, all depending upon the individual fancy of the gardener.

And if this gardener has the proper spirit, if he knows his verbenas, his salpiglossis and his plox drummondii, he will have each in its place, a spot where the soil is just right and where there is the ideal distribution of sunshine and shade. The whole plan will be put down carefully on paper in anticipation of the day when conditions call for the use of spade and rake and hoe, when the plan will be transferred from paper to the good earth.

Of course, there is no certainty that enthusiasm for the perfect garden will not diminish as the season advances and the scene changes from the realm of the imagination to the realities of the back yard. Nevertheless, it is a pleasant prospect to contemplate.

SEE RESULT IN CLEAN CITY

The world has been discovering lately, with surprise and admiration, that St. Louis, long known as one of the smokiest cities in the world, is now one of the cleanest. The improvement was actually accomplished in less than one year, "between two winter heating seasons." The success should inspire other American cities.

The fight started on a November day, year before last, when the city smoke made the streets so dark that motorists had to use their headlights till 11 a. m. There has been nothing like that during the past winter. The blackouts have ended. The smoke has been reduced nearly two-thirds. And this in a time of increasing industrial activity.

There is a saving of $8,000,000 a year in smoke damage. There is also a trek back to the city by families that had gone to live in the suburbs.

How was it accomplished? It was not done by outsiders, but by the city itself, using its own initiative and resources. Press, city government, business and industry and householders co-operated fully. So success came, as it always does in municipal matters, when all work in harmony for a definite purpose.

This is not essentially a big-city problem. Small cities are often smoky and dirty, because of unfavorable location or the carelessness of citizens and industries burning soft coal imperfectly.

NO BOOTSTRAP FINANCING

Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve System has done well to reply to Representative Patman's proposal for financing defense and retiring the national debt by issuing "printing press money" and non-interest bearing bonds.

In plain words he points out both the underlying fallacy and the obvious dangers of such a policy. Suggestions for bootstrap financing are particularly insidious because they are so plausible at first glance. Proponents argue that our government's credit is so good that it has been able to borrow many billions at the lowest interest rates on record. Why not go a step farther, they ask, have the government own the stock of the Federal Reserve Banks and load them up with non-interest bearing bonds? Then whenever the treasury needed money it could draw checks on these paper credits.

If such a suggestion were followed to its logical conclusion, there would be no need for taxes either. Why even borrow with bonds? The government presses could turn out enough currency to meet all possible expenditures. It could get away with this tempting policy until the money began to lose its value and it took a bushel of dollars to buy a loaf of bread.

That is an extreme illustration of the peril of inflation, but it is not necessary to recall Germany's disastrous experience to realize the truth of Mr. Eccles' remark that "someone must pay for everything."

Instead of asking for inflationary troubles, this is the time to adopt safeguards against the evil, the Philadelphia Inquirer points out. Even before the necessarily huge expenditures for defense have got under way, commodity prices have been rising in a manner to threaten family budgets.

Last January the Federal Reserve Board urged imposition of curbs against inflation. The treasury has now launched a commendable plan for selling an increasing proportion of defense program bonds to the public, especially to persons of moderate means. If Mr. Patman had his way, he would knock this plan into a cocked hat.

Additional taxes are also in the offing. They should be supplemented by rigid savings in non-defense outlays, which would help to curb inflation. The theory that unlimited government spending produces prosperity has been proved utterly false. We need to build up our military defenses. But it is equally important to strengthen our financial defenses. Mr. Patman is not serving this cause with his preposterous proposal.

Lawmakers may levy and hide the tax as they will, but it's paid by the little consumer still.

Workers in glass and metals never have any waste. If anything they are making turns out wrong, it is called an ash tray.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PARENTAL TIFTS AND THE CHILD

"Dear Dr. Myers: Not long ago much to my consternation I discovered that my twelve-year-old daughter was taking small sums of money out of my pocketbook. She has an allowance and a fairly comfortable home. We had quite a talk and she promised never to do such a thing again.

"However, I am wondering whether the strained relations existing between my husband and myself most of the time would lead her to commit this offense.

"I had the pleasure of attending the public forums you conducted in our city, on family problems, a few years ago and I believe you can help me. Will you please send me a list of the books on marriage and how to make a go of it. I enclose a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it."

The list was sent to this mother and she was answered personally, as all are who request it.

I wrote this mother: "The strained relations existing between you and your husband easily might cause your daughter to steal money. Indeed, unhappy father-mother relationships can cause all sorts of serious behavior and personality problems in children. What's more, it is hard to see how children can grow up happily and acquire wholesome moral character in a home of constant strained relations between the parents. As I have often said, the most essential relationship in the home, even so far as the child is concerned, is the father-mother relationship. And let us remember that lying and stealing—deceit in short—practically always begins at home."

Any parent who puts the welfare of his or her child first will be willing to make all sorts of sacrifices to win the other parent's affection, companionship and cooperation.

I have just read a most unusual autobiography of a bright college man serving sentence in a penitentiary. The most apparent contribution to this seemed to be the ceaseless strained relations between his distinguished father and mother. They neither loved him nor each other. It is easy to see how this boy was emotionally and morally unstable.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Suppose your child, say of 12, complained to you in confidence about treatment by the other parent in your absence.

A. I should listen attentively but make no criticism of the other parent to this child. But I should discuss the matter frankly and calmly with the other parent privately.

Q. What do you consider a good way to train the baby to avoid matches?

A. Tell him just once he must not touch them. Immediately, every time he does, punish him. Allow no exceptions. When you are sure he should begin to use matches, limit use of them to times when he is supervised.

Q. What do you think of the practice by many a conscientious parent of putting the youth returning home from a "date" on the "witness stand" to question him or her about all that happened?

A. I consider this about the worst practice any parent can engage in, since it puts the parent in the position of a prosecuting attorney and the child a prisoner on trial, and it builds a wall between them.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE LESSENING GAP

The American Youth Congress, meeting in Washington, went on record as opposing the lend-lease bill. In California, another promoter has started a $100-every-fortnight pension idea in the interest of "national defense."

We live under a new biological dispensation. A lot of Americans nowadays seem to remain adolescents until they suddenly wake up and find themselves in old age.

Birth, for the purpose of studying youth problems is anything up to twenty-five years. For purposes of politics, youth is anything up to thirty-five.

Old age, on the other hand, has been sharply revised downward. Old age for Townsend pension purposes began at sixty. Last year in the "rain-and-eggs" referendum in California, old age was down to fifty-five. The latest proposal for $100-every-fortnight puts old age down to fifty. Discussions of superannuated workers deal with persons at forty. That would leave only a five-year gap between the Young Republicans at thirty-five, and the superannuated workers at forty. Those in between are presumably the middle-aged!

But statistics still show a good number of middle-aged people in the United States. If you move youth back to what it used to be—under the age of twenty-one—and you push old age back to sixty-five, or in any case not earlier than sixty, there is a middle period accounting for something like sixty-five or seventy million Americans.

We count the strictly "middle-aged" persons as a distinct group known then, between forty and sixty years, we would still have a group of twenty-five to thirty million Americans—which is still a lot of forgotten Americans.

Sons to the old, fathers to the young, these middle Americans function as a moderating and conciliatory influence. As a group they are the most influential in the country—notwithstanding the fact that youth and old age vie hotly to keep themselves on the front page.

Better to live in a little town, make $1,200 and save $200, than to make $5,000 in New York and spend $5,001.

"Tempo" Building Hitting Fast Pace
Capitol Dotted With Emergency Huts
Recall Building Spree Of World War

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, March 28.—"Tempo" building has broken out again in Washington's vicinity in a violent form.

Tempo is short for temporary, and temporary means a huge frame edifice, shot up as fast as sticks can be nailed together, for the erection of anything but the most emergency kind of shack. Otherwise the overflow of 'em (thousands) would have to perform their duties outdoors.

The theory is that these crates are for temporary use only; then they'll be torn down—if they haven't already fallen apart voluntarily. As a matter of fact, they generally prove to be pretty permanent, up to a considerable number of years.

The capital's first attack of tempo building immediately followed Uncle Sam's entrance into the last World War. His personnel naturally almost doubled almost overnight. And in not much more than a matter of days, tempos were ready for use to move their desks into it. It was assumed that the civilian federal army would shrink to previously normal proportions directly after the conflict, whereupon the tempos would be chopped up and sold for firewood.

Peace being restored, the civilian army didn't shrink, however. It saved as big as in wartime until much later, when, instead of shrinking, it took another prodigious binge.

Stood For Years
Consequently the tempos still stood, cheerful of government employees. They weren't kept in repair, either. For one thing, they weren't worth repairing. For another thing, they were so jerry-built that no amount of repairs could have done 'em any good. In size, they were no mere sheds, understood. They covered about a city block each and were four, five or six stories high.

Buildings of such dimensions, consisting of nothing but latrine, plaster, some two-by-fours and a lot of nails, were enough to scare you. Their floors trembled under you, as you walked down their corridors. They were plastered with no-smoking signs, but they weren't necessary. Those tempos were ready to burst into flames at an angry look. Anybody who'd scratched a match in one of 'em would have been com-

MR. ROOSEVELT'S excuse for urging the plan at this time is that it is needed in both Canada and the United States for their joint defense, but it is not possible to fit that statement to the facts. In the first place, on Mr. Roosevelt's own definition, the project could not be completed before 1945. Very good engineers put the date at not earlier than 1947. Therefore, as the New York Times points out, the St. Lawrence seaway could not possibly be of the slightest value either to Canada or the United States for four long years at least; possibly six.

FOR another thing, if Canada and the United States had more power plants, they could get it for defense work, they can get it much more quickly either at Niagara Falls or by building steam electric plants. In the third place, the project, if begun now, would divert labor, materials, railroad cars and money from the job of producing planes, guns, tanks and ships for the immediate use of the British against the Nazis.

AND finally, there are the arguments against this Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway made seven years ago without any thought of war or defense. At that time it was pointed out that forty per cent of the time the projected waterway would be frozen over, un navigable because of ice, second, that the slow speed necessary because of locking would make the passage uneconomical for commercial vessels, third, that the expected benefits to the Great Lakes cities would not be realized, but that if they were realized they would be at the expense of other ports.

IT was on these grounds, as well as because of the huge cost that the Senate turned it down in 1934. (Continued On Page Five)

CONFESSION
When at bridge I sit to play
Do not look at me that way!
Lovely lady, try to be
Kind and gracious unto me,
Is it difficult to stand
One who overbids his hand
And may carry you to six
Without any honor tricks?

Lady, bridge is just a game,
Neither linked to pride nor shame.
Should you now be taken ill
And require a surgeon's skill,
It would matter not to you
If the honor tricks he knew.
In his hands you'd rest content
Though his two-bids nothing meant.

Lady, sad am I to see
You so furious with me,
I confess to you with a sigh
To be such a fool as I
Is a very sorry lot.
I admit I like it not.
I'd much rather read a book
Than deserve so sharp a look!

Lady, do not ask me more
To make up a pleasant four.
Though I have no suit at cards
Still I cherish your regards
And my opening bids I've found
Are too often far from sound.
As a partner pass me by,
Just a sorry fool am I.

Dubious Projects

WASHINGTON, March 28.—IT is not strange that almost opposition should be gathering in both House and Senate to the President's proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway development plans. On the contrary, if Congress acquiesces in this recommendation by Mr. Roosevelt, it will have slowed down the pace of the defense program and unnecessarily have added to the expenditures at a time when they already are seriously great.

SO clear does it seem that this project clashes with Mr. Roosevelt's personal attitude upon first things first, and his call for "speed, speed, speed," that it is difficult to reconcile it with reason or adequately to defend it. In addition, the revival of the proposal in the form of an agreement, which requires only a majority vote in the Senate, instead of as a treaty requiring a two-thirds vote in each form, it was rejected seven years ago, has an excessive and tricky flavor not calculated to commend.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S excuse for urging the plan at this time is that it is needed in both Canada and the United States for their joint defense, but it is not possible to fit that statement to the facts. In the first place, on Mr. Roosevelt's own definition, the project could not be completed before 1945. Very good engineers put the date at not earlier than 1947. Later he was chancellor of the University of the City of New York and president of Rutgers college.

1837—Jacob Harold Gallinger, physician, congressman and U. S. senator, near Cornwall, Ontario, Canada. He was elected to congress in 1884 from New Hampshire and was in the senate from 1891 until his death in 1918. Burly, magnanimous, self-confident, he was caricatured as the very embodiment of "stand-pattism."

Veiled Warning Is Given Japan

Japan Must Pledge Assistance To Nazis To Get Aid In Asiatic Drive

By ALFRED DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, March 28.—Germany tonight gave Japan a veiled warning that Nippon must not expect Axis aid in her South Asiatic drive unless Tokyo pledges assistance to Germany.

The Berlin correspondent of the influential newspaper Asahi telephoned from the scene of the Matsuo-Hitler conversations that Germany is pressing Japan to formulate a definite Anglo-American policy. Such a clear-cut policy, German authorities reportedly said, is of paramount importance at the present juncture, "even overshadowing Japan's aims in China and Southeastern Asia."

Germany means that Japan will not be able to eradicate the anti-Asian sentiment upon the Chinese affair unless she determines fundamental policies with regard to Britain and the United States, the Asahi writer said.

This was interpreted as a clear warning that Axis aid in Europe and Asia must be reciprocal.

It was evoked, according to observers here, by Foreign Minister Matsuo's declaration in Berlin that Japan will not menace the United States if America "leaves us alone."

One member of the Japanese mission in Berlin, Asahi said, revealed surprise and disappointment that there were no developments in the European situation after the group's departure from Tokyo other than Yugoslavia's adherence to the Axis.

So far there has been no reaction by Japanese quarters here or in Berlin over King Peter's coup in Belgrade.

Meanwhile the diplomatic correspondent of the newspaper Yomiuri, Toshio Shiratori, published an explanation of Japan's East Asiatic policy as aimed primarily to oust white interests and influence.

The Great Game Of Politics

In the past, all boundary-water matters between Canada and this country have been considered as treaties, subject to ratification by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. That this project could be considered under any other head had never been suggested until the President revived the whole business just before he left on his vacation.

ONLY two reasons have been advanced as to why he chose to resurrect this grandiose and decidedly dubious scheme, supposed to have been definitely shelved. One, of course, is that he believes in it and has for a long time. This is one of his pet projects and he characteristically dismisses all the arguments against it as unworthy of notice. The other is that Mr. Roosevelt never relinquishes one of his ideas. Whether you call it "strange persistence," as does General Johnson, or "Dutch stubbornness," as he himself describes it, the fact remains that Mr. Roosevelt never accepts rejection of any Administration proposal by Congress as final.

IN this case, some of his friends think it exceedingly clever in him to see in the present crisis an opportunity to make the Senate give him the thing it refused seven years ago. Others take an opposite view. At any rate, a strong case for again rejecting the proposal on grounds of defense efficiency as well as on the ground of exorbitant cost can be made. Canada already has made it clear that she is in no position to put half the money and that the great bulk of the expenditure would have to be borne by us.

AN effort is being made to ascribe the opposition to the power interests, but that allegation does not hold up. The fact is that, even if the merits of the plan were not a matter of controversy, the diversion of energy, funds and men from the things vital to the defense program for a project which can begin to be of use only four years hence is indefensible. If it goes through, there is no reason the Florida ship canal project should not also be made out for it as for the St. Lawrence waterway, and its proponents are eager for the chance to make their fight too.

Well, after 10 or a dozen years of this sort of thing, the Hoover administration came in. Hoover had had time to realize that the government force never was going to shrivel; that permanencies were urgently needed to take the tempos' places. So he and congress started, like fury, to build real government offices, out of steel and masonry, str conditioned—awful classy. It was the biggest building rampage in history. It transformed downtown Washington.

With the New Deal's advent the government was comfortably housed. It wasn't long, though, due to the creation of New Deal agencies, that its accommodations began to be a trifle constricted once more. They weren't yet crowded to the point of suffocation, but they hadn't much room to spare.

But today!—with our aid and defensive programs in full blast! ....

As Far As Baltimore

Uncle Sam's workers simply are slopping out of his permanent quarters into the adjoining thoroughfares. He's leased all available office buildings and apartment houses in town, and more as far away as Baltimore and roundabout. And he hasn't got nearly sufficient space yet.

Hence the public buildings administration's, the federal works agency's and the budget bureau's newest scheme to start tempo-building again in Virginia, nearby Washington. There's no room for it now in Washington itself. The capital's strictly urban acreage, formerly devoted to tempos, is all occupied by permanencies at present; it's necessary to expand into the outskirts. It's reckoned that seven tempos will do initially, but it's agreed that they'll be only starters. The three bureau estimate that $3,000,000 will be enough to start with. Three millions sounds like a mere bag-o-shells in this era of billions. Nevertheless, three millions will build a whale of an area of tempos, made out of kindlingwood and ten-penny spikes, like the ones we had last time.

The remains of the original Uncle Tom's cabin still stands near the old General Kennedy home, nine miles from Lancaster, Ky.

Reid Warns Of Home Hazards

Lists Ten Commandments For Protection Against Fire About Homes

FIRE UNDERWRITERS PLAN ANNIVERSARY

George D. Reid, chairman of Accident Prevention of the Lawrence county chapter American Red Cross, preparing to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the National Board of Fire Underwriters which is to be held during the month of May, has prepared a series of articles pertaining to the various hazards which people of the chapter jurisdiction will meet in their everyday life.

Mr. Reid gives the ten commandments for protection of your home against fire as handed down by the National Board of Fire Underwriters now in its 75th anniversary year. Briefly they are:

1. Keep chimneys, stoves and furnaces clean, and in good repair.
2. Empty ashes into metal containers, never wooden ones. The same goes for storage of rags and mops that may contain paint and oil stains.
3. Never force a heating plant in cold weather. Call a heating expert.
4. Always disconnect electrical appliances, even if you leave them for only a minute.
5. Use only electrical equipment listed as approved by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.
6. Never under any circumstances use inflammable cleaning fluids such as gasoline, naphtha or benzene.
7. Guard against accumulation of rubbish anywhere, especially in attic or basement.
8. Keep matches away from the children.
9. Make sure all gas connections are rigid and tight. Don't use rubber or other flexible tubing.
10. Place an iron screen with a fine mesh in front of the fireplace—always.

Babson Discusses Production, Employment, And Government Jobs

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright 1941—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Fla. March 28.—Today I am leaving Florida and do not expect to be back again until next January. As I am cleaning up my desk, I find three clippings which I have been saving to comment upon. Let me do so now.

Florida Growers' Sad. A short time ago the following editorial appeared in a prominent Florida paper:

"There will not be much comfort for Florida growers in the department of agriculture's recent estimate of the nation's citrus crop. The federal crop reporting board estimates an all-time record orange crop of 81,000,000 boxes this season; grapefruit production is put at 40,000,000 boxes, a total increase of about 10 per cent over last season. Florida orange production, including tangelines is put at 28,000,000 boxes. That's about the same as last year. The estimate on grapefruit is a Florida headache. Federal experts forecast the Florida production at 21,000,000 boxes, compared with a 1939-1940 crop of 15,900,000 boxes."

In reply, a reader sends the paper a quotation from Robert Ingersoll: "There is something wrong with a government when those who produce all have nothing, while those who produce nothing have it all." As I have watched the growers of oranges and grapefruit sweat in their groves to pay interest and taxes and get almost nothing therefrom, I cannot help but be sympathetic with the farmers. What is wrong? It is not the law of supply and demand—it must be something else. Let us look at the record.

Whether the fruit growers get anything or not—their dollars get freight, the packing houses get their regular fee, while the middle men get their regular commissions. In fact, the more fruit there is, and the worse off the grower is, the more profits are made by these other people. After 20 winters in Florida, I have concluded that the problem will be rectified only through a pooling of the earnings of all these different groups. When all suffer and prosper together, then something will be done to help all. This also applies to the officials of co-operative exchanges who get their good salaries just the same, whatever happens to the poor growers. I include herewith the growers of scores of other products from potatoes in Maine to prunes in California, and peaches in Georgia.

Employment After the War. A second newspaper clipping reads as follows:

Of course, this is due to the war orders which have come to our community. But something is wrong when we must manufacture things to kill people in order to give our men employment!

The above illustrates conditions in America and, to a large extent, today in many other countries. Readers brought up in conservative Republican homes have been taught "this is the way of the world" and that these conditions must always be expected. We have been told "the poor will always be with us" and that "under the laws of nature only the fittest should survive!" Our difficulty has been not only with the wrong definition of the "fittest," but also with the fact that we have artificially put nature out of balance. Normally, the laws of nature will bring forth a good forest. When man, however, artificially sets a forest on fire, then other artificial means must be instituted to put it out. There would have been no abnormal unemployment problem if the character of our people had progressed at the same rate as the machine. Trouble came when we forgot God and went "machine crazy." It is dangerous now to assume that the employment problem has been "solved." It has been given only a "shot-in-the-arm."

I believe in a social structure which is founded on private ownership and which requires employers and wage workers, hiring and firing, and natural price levels, so long as these do not interfere with the greatest good for the greatest number. If, however, we can take care of the unemployed, when our own protection is at stake, we can provide work for them in times of peace. A truly Christian society demands some way of doing this however it hurts both those living on dividends or those living on relief. We must change our fatal individualistic philosophy which believes that only through the material enrichment of the individual is the community enriched. Some day we will put the good of the community—including ourselves—before any individual, including ourselves.

VOLANT GROUP TO ATTEND SERVICE
Members of the Volant College Alumni Association will honor the late T. C. Blevins, who died yesterday, when funeral services take place at Leesburg, Saturday, a large delegation from here planning to attend.
Mr. Blevins was active in the affairs of the Alumni Association for a number of years.

Employment After the War. A second newspaper clipping reads as follows:

"For the first time in ten years everyone willing to work in our town is fully employed. This compares with a large surplus of labor a few years ago. In fact, there is an actual shortage of labor here at the present time. Even our newspaper office is looking for two boys—a condition that never existed before."

Terrific Battle For Supremacy In Air Nearing

All Out Effort Will Be Made To Gain Superiority In Skies

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 28.—Opinion is virtually unanimous in official London circles that this year will witness a terrific trial of strength between the opposing air forces of Great Britain and Germany. All-out efforts will be made by both belligerents to obtain definite superiority in the skies.

British air plans for the coming months have a two-fold objective: to pound away at enemy military and industrial objectives all along the great arc from Norway to Brittany and deep into Germany, and to narrow and if possible eliminate the numerical gap between the rival air forces to the point where Britain can confidently undertake a big continental land offensive.

German air strategy for this year, as pictured in London from reliable information gathered mainly from neutral sources, will be to throw almost everything Germany has in raids on Britain, designed to soften up the morale of the civilian population, to snarl war production, and perhaps pave the way for an invasion attempt.

Already the world is witnessing the carrying out of part of this plan in the fierce German raids on strategic British ports and industrial centers and in the renewed heavy raids on London and other population centers.

The steadily increasing British offensive action in the air, in which hordes of planes have roared across the channel to attack invasion ports, airdromes and certain industrial objectives in recent months, has acted as a fine tonic on the much-bombed British civilians. Premier Churchill, Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair, and other British leaders have promised the people that more and heavier blows will be struck at Germany. By and large, the British people are itching to see the R. A. F. deal out the same medicine that the British have had to take in the past seven months.

Junior Class Play At Shenango High

Three-Act Mystery Comedy To Be Presented At Shenango
High School, On April 3

The junior class of Shenango high school will present a three-act mystery farce, "Aunt Susie Shoots the Works," Thursday evening, April 3. The play is filled with thrills and exciting moments from beginning to end.

Since this is a mystery farce, it is entirely different from any other "aunt" play ever written. Aunt Susie Stowe, a man-hating spinster, lives entirely alone. Cora King, Susie's lamented school-mate, has willed her property which turns out to be nothing more than a saw-sage mill. Her favorite niece, Joy Herbert, accompanies her and they are confronted with a series of mysterious and hair-raising events. To make matters worse, Joy is secretly engaged to Johnny Rogers, who turns up unexpectedly bent on a mysterious mission.

Lights flash on and off, characters disappear into nowhere, strange visitors run in and out, and at midnight weird sounds are heard coming from the factory next door. Aunt Susie is determined to investigate and goes into the factory alone. The climax is reached when eccentric Susie "shoots the works," thereby sending the audience into spasms of laughter.

The cast is as follows:
Aunt Susie—Maxine Sweet.
Joy Herbert—Mary Louise Williams.
Scarlet Deane—Doris Wood.
Laura Dawson—Grace Lawrence.
Madame Zola—Gladys Moore.
Mrs. Edw. Dunning—Mary Emma Duckworth.
Portia Lark—Florence Badger.

Omar Graves—Reese Thomas.
Lassie Johnson—Richard Donley.
Johnny Rogers—Bill Nagel.
Slick Conway—Bill Tindall.

Retail florists enjoyed a big year in 1939 with total sales amounting to $149,000,000, according to the census. This was 51 per cent greater than for 1935.

Will Have Roles In School Play

"Swing Fever" To Be Presented At Senior High School
This Evening

Sally Lou Fehl Ruth Porter

In the senior high school comedy, "Swing Time," playing tonight in the auditorium on Lincoln avenue, Sally Lou Fehl will appear as Polly Becker, the girl who "lives next door" to a youth who fancies himself as a swing-artist. Her rival is a moving-picture star, a real swing-expert. Polly lacks the glamour of remoteness and possesses the advantage of proximity. She makes the most of her opportunity and is to be seen most of the time drifting on and off the stage, set for the living room of the young man's home. Ruth Porter plays Mrs. Grimm, the housekeeper, and in the line of duty, she frequently appears in the same living room. Mrs. Grimm is comedy part and Ruth plays it up to the limit.

Both girls are seniors but are newcomers to the high school play-bills. Ruth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Porter, of Young street and Sally Lou of Mr. and Mrs. Fehl of East Washington street.

ENGINEERS IN DEMAND
(International News Service)
CORVALLIS, Ore.—Graduates of engineering schools all apparently have good jobs in the Pacific northwest. This was the recent conclusion of R. H. Dearborn, Dean of Engineering at the Oregon State College who was forced to postpone a proposed special short course in aeronautical engineering as an aid in national defense. Dearborn said recent graduates contacted said they couldn't leave their jobs long enough to take the course.

Camp Shelby Men Are Now Eligible For Trip To Homes

About Seven Days Furlough Is Possible For Men Of 190th Field Artillery

(Special To The News)

CAMP SHELBY, Miss. March 28
—Soldiers at Camp Shelby felt less like Snuffy Smith this week after an announcement from Third Army
Headquarters that they are now eligible for furlough. Another order gave Jewish soldiers permission to return to their homes for the feast of the Passover.

Each soldier, according to the memorandum issued, may be granted a leave in proportion to the time he has served. For the Pennsylvania-born 190th Field Artillery, which was inducted on January 13th of this year, the vacation earned by Easter would amount to seven days for each man. Many already have applied for leave to go home.

The others, the soldiers of Jewish faith, have been granted furlough enough to travel to and from their homes or other places where Seder celebrations are held and to remain there from noon of Friday, April 11 until midnight of Sunday, April 13.
In no case, however, will the furlough extend more than seven days.

System of furloughs for soldiers.

according to War Department orders, is 30 days leave a year, with leave at any one time granted in proportion to the amount of the year already served.

Final Check On Banquet Plans Occurs Tonight

DEFENSE GROUP TO MEET HERE

Judge Vincent Carroll, department chairman of national defense, has called a meeting in The Castleton at 3 o'clock of defense committee members from western Pennsylvania, numbering in the neighborhood of 80 Legionnaires, who will discuss plans for home defense.

Past Commander A. L. Conn is chairman of the committee on public relations in home defense from the post, while Fred M. Alexander is chairman of the air defense branch of the Legion here.

Around 100 business, industrial leaders will attend the luncheon Tuesday noon in The Castleton, arrangements for which are going forward under the chairmanship of J. LePere Matthews. Dr. A. B. Foster will be master of ceremonies at the luncheon, and it is expected that National Commander Milo J. Warner will address this luncheon as well as the evening banquet.

Leo Strizzi is chairman of the program committee for the banquet and arrangements for the program of the evening are virtually complete. Assisting him are members of the general committee.

The decorations are in charge of James Cooper and Earl Moffatt, assisted by J. P. Leslie Brindle, Norman P. Nelson, L. B. Allhouse, Howard Allen, Jacob Baumgartner, William Blum, M. D. ## Wavelength Tangle

Donna Wood

That change in wavelength of 90 per cent of American radio broadcasting stations is "really simple," says Donna Wood, vocalist with Horace Heidt's orchestra—and then Donna disproves her assertion by promptly getting all tangled up in the wires of her receiving set. Most American stations are moved 10 to 40 kilocycles from their present position on the dial in order to clear away station interference across North America's international boundaries.

RADIO MOVING DAY SATURDAY

New Broadcasting Frequencies Assigned To Most All Stations In Nation

At 3 o'clock Saturday morning relocation of broadcasting frequencies for most of the radio stations of the nation will take place in one of the most sweeping changes that has as yet been made.

In United States 795 out of 883 broadcasting stations will be affected by the move.

Among the changes that are to be made practically all stations heard locally will be affected. WKST will change from 1250 kilocycles to 1280, KDKA will change from 880 to 1020, WCAE from 1220 to 1250, and WJAS will change from 1290 to 1320.

Girls Make Visit To Maple Festival

Enjoy Visit To Chardon, Ohio, Sugar Camp On Thursday Morning

Girl Scout Troop No. 11, consisting of 14 girls accompanied by their captain, Mrs. Clara Cartwright, and lieutenant, Miss Dawn Cartwright, of R. D. 4, motored Thursday morning to Geauga county Maple festival at Chardon, Ohio.

Mrs. Anna Hanger, of Winter avenue, Mrs. Alice Weaver, North Mulberry street, Mrs. George Pontius, R. D. 4, and Miss Norma Hall, R. D. 5, kindly volunteered the use of their automobile, and drove the party to and from Chardon.

Mrs. Cartwright reports that all had a delightful time while at the festival, and were extended every courtesy. They saw the tapping of maple trees, and the old and new way of boiling down the sap was fully demonstrated. Many antiques were on display. There was a golden wedding celebrated by an aged couple. There were many bands that furnished music throughout the day, including Rube and Gypsy band.

Hobbies of many descriptions were shown at the court house. The girls, seeking a place to eat their lunch were directed by a policeman to a jury room.

The troop meets at the Rhodes Mission, Harlansburg road.

Richard C. Hottelet

Charged with "suspicion of espionage for an enemy power," Richard C. Hottelet, Brooklyn-born American newspaperman, was arrested by the Nazi Gestapo in Berlin. President Roosevelt ordered the U. S. Embassy to investigate.

(Central Press)

EVER stop to figure why Nature gave you both a nose and a mouth to breathe through?

Your nose, barring colds, does all right for ordinary purposes.

But go up against some heavy exercise — and you can open up your mouth as well and increase the intake of oxygen.

Your 1941 Buick with Compound Carburetion* works something like that.

Its "nose," which is the forward one of your two thrift-size carburetors, does a grand job of supplying "breath" for your engine on normal jobs.

But when the time comes that your engine has to dig in for a tough pull or a burst of power, then your extra foot-pressure on the gas treadle opens up the "mouth" and your engine "breathes" through two carburetors.

Simple, isn't it? Yet look what happens:

Your engine always consumes gas according to the need.

By simply taking it easy when easy does it and breathing deep when the work piles up, your power plant gets as much as 10% to 15% more mileage from the same gasoline.

That, in these days, is nothing to be sneezed at.

So why don't you get the whole story from your Buick dealer?

New Castle Taxpayers Contributed To Record Collection Sum

Collections for income tax alone this year in the 23rd Pennsylvania collection district — embracing New Castle—exceeded $54,000,000 and established the highest figure on record. William Driscoll, collector at Pittsburgh, wrote The News today.

Driscoll, thanking the press for its "valuable assistance," reported that approximately one-half million persons filed returns during the filing period that closed March 15.

The New Castle field office, in the Federal building, helped to gather a portion of that huge sum.

CHILD INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Alvin Fennell, aged 6, of rear 614 State street, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 2:15 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, by Walter Green, of 829 Court street, after the child had run out in the street and been struck by Green's car. It was found at the hospital that the boy's injuries were of a minor nature, although he was admitted for treatment.

During the moulting season, penguins fall away almost to skin and bone. Feathers drop off in batches. A moulting penguin will stand on the shore in misery and in a few hours the place where it stood will be marked by a ring of feathers. On an island where thousands of penguins are moulting, feathers may stand as much as a foot deep. It was not until the time of Hippocrates, about four or five hundred years before Christ, that the Greeks began to attribute disease to natural rather than to supernatural causes.

Intelligence Tests Are Given At Camp Shelby

(Special To The News)
CAMP SHELBY, Miss., March 25.—The great army classification system swept over the 190th Field Artillery last week, and today turned it out a neatly coded pack of cards.

First indication of the coming wave of systematization was an apparently innocent intelligence test, administered by non-coms under the direction of officers. Each battery segregated in its own mess hall, was subjected to the test, which required 30 minutes and an excess of brains to complete. Typical of the questions according to one suffering soldier was, "If one and three-quarter hens laid seven and three-quarter eggs in four days and 32 minutes, then which came first, the chicken or the egg?"

Seriously given and seriously corrected, however, the test was designed to classify each soldier into one of five intelligence groups, depending upon his intelligence quotient.

Quick on the heels of the intelligence tests was an interview of each enlisted man, again administered by trained non-coms. Purpose of the interview was to discover and record such information as each soldier's birthplace, number of dependents, former civilian job, amount of weekly income, special skills and abilities, leadership qualifications and previous military experience. This information too was entered on the individual record cards along with the intelligence quotient, and is intended as reference material for the assignment of each soldier to the special niche he fits best.

Colonel Samuel E. Wolfe, commander of the 190th, was particularly gratified that the mean intelligence quotient of the enlisted personnel of his regiment was approximately 112, twelve points higher than that of the average U. S. citizen.

DRAFTEE INJURED WATCHING BALL GAME

While watching a ball game among recruits at Fort Belvoir, Va., David Harris of 1511 East Washington street was struck with a bat that slipped from the hands of a player. David was taken to the hospital, and in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David G. Harris, he states he is getting along nicely. David, a draftee, was inducted into the army on March 19.

To Present "Fashions"
On April 2-5

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, March 28.—"Fashions," a comedy-satire of 19th century America, will be presented by the Westminster college Little Theatre April 2-5.

The schemes of a rascally clerk and the count, both of whom wish to marry Seraphina for her money, are frustrated by Adam Trueman, a rough but honest farmer, who also assists the courtship of Gertrude, a governess, and Colonel Howard.

The spinster, Prudence, and Zeke, a colored servant, add to the comedy of situations.

Specially painted drops and wings used in the production are being prepared by the class in dramatic production. Student director is Elsie Hetherington, Union N. J. prompter, Margaret Orr, New Wilmington; hostess, Ruth Clancio.

Eyes Right! . . . by Squier

LIGHT FOR THE EVENING GAMES OF GREECE AND ROME WAS PROVIDED BY BUNDLES OF FAT SOAKED STRIPS USED AS TORCHES. ROMANS IMPROVED THE LOOKS OF METAL AND POTTERY LAMPS BUT DID NOT IMPROVE ON THE BASIC IDEA OF LIGHTING WITH AN OPEN FLAME.

LONG KNOWN, CANDLES FIRST CAME INTO GENERAL USE IN CHRISTIAN CHURCHES. LAMPS OF METAL AND POTTERY LAMPS BUT DID NOT IMPROVE ON THE BASIC IDEA OF LIGHTING WITH AN OPEN FLAME.

MODERNERS OF RESTORATION DAYS WERE LIGHTED HOME TO THEIR HANGING LAMPS BY SERVANTS PLACING TORCHES. STREET LIGHTING IS VERY RECENT. BEFORE 1850 ONLY THE BIG ELECTRIC STREET LIGHT—BEST CITIES EVEN HAD IT.

ING MADE ITS FIRST U.S. APPEARANCE IN CLEVELAND IN 1879 WHEN CARBON ARC LAMPS WERE INSTALLED. EDISON LIGHTED A SECTION OF NEW YORK CITY THE SAME YEAR.

NOT ONLY STREETS, BUT LARGE PUBLIC FUNCTIONS, INCLUDING NIGHT BASE BALL AND FOOTBALL GAMES, IS NOW COMMONPLACE. ADEQUATE AND SCIENTIFICALLY CORRECT LIGHTING HAS PROMOTED MAN'S EFFICIENCY AND HAPPINESS IN EVERY BRANCH OF BUSINESS AND SOCIAL LIFE.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

A MALFORMATION OF ESOPHAGUS SOMETIMES FOUND IN BABIES.

Sometimes babies are born with an abnormality in the tube-esophagus. It is called a "windpipe" and leads to the stomach. Obviously, such a child can't survive unless a way is found to insure its proper nourishment.

When the baby is born with an esophagus that is too short, this condition is almost always fatal. The milk which the child takes is regurgitated unchanged. More common are cases in which the child's esophagus, somewhere along its length, is too narrow to permit passage of food properly. Here too, the child will bring up the milk it tries to swallow, but in these cases, the child's life isn't in such danger. A good many times this happened in my practice in an out of the way spot with no specialist or hospital near. So I dilated the esophagus cautiously with a small tube until the food could get through. I don't recall losing a single child operated on in this way.

However, it is far more preferable for such cases to go to a hospital for a specialist's care. The hospital's X-ray will show exactly where the trouble is and a specialist can remedy it without difficulty.

There is another serious mechanical defect which occasionally occurs at the upper end of the esophagus. Here this tube and the windpipe that takes the air to the lungs are side by side. A little tongue-like projection in the throat covers up the windpipe when we swallow so that no food will get down into the lungs. Occasionally, a baby is born with a defect which causes food to get by this tongue-like projection and be drawn down into the lungs.

In such cases, if the mother is careful not to let the child swallow too rapidly, the trouble may rectify itself. If the trouble continues until it is serious, then there is very little hope for the child. For when part of the feeding continues to get into the lungs, then it isn't long before there develops a kind of pneumonia different from the ordinary types. The food that goes down the windpipe fills the space in the lungs where air should be and nothing effective can be done to remove it. Any operation on the chest is difficult and in newborn babies one is practically always fatal.

NEW GALILEE

BIRTHDAY PARTY

E. M. Baumgardner celebrated his fifty-third birthday anniversary on Sunday, March 23, when his children, and grandchildren spent some part of the day at the Baumgardner home. A pleasant surprise was when Mrs. Harry Stanley, a sister of Mr. Baumgardner, also a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Held, from Alliance, Ohio, came to extend greetings. A chicken supper and three lovely birthday cakes were served in the evening. Mr. Baumgardner was the recipient of many useful gifts.

OPERA

The Glee club of Darlington high school is presenting an opera by Clark entitled "Jerry From Geico Road." The cast includes several young people from New Galilee, who attend Darlington high school. They are Lucy Dicanno, and Rita Montogazzi as modern dancers, Eda Clerici as a mimet belle, Sonny Ubolda, ghost, and Emmadora Baumgardner as "Jerry." Others are in the singing touring chorus. It will be held Friday evening, March 28, at the Darlington community building.

P.T.A. MEETING

The parent-teachers unit will hold their regular meeting in the New Galilee school building on Friday evening, March 28, at 8 o'clock. There will be pictures shown of the Sylvania Hill Memorial park.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Complete Work On Big Flag Thursday

Girls At Crawford-Oakridge Center Make Flag 18 By 24 Feet

One of the largest flags ever to be flown in this district was completed Thursday afternoon by the girls at the Crawford-Oakridge N. Y. A. Center, Atlantic avenue. The flag measures 18 by 24 feet, and is made of extra heavy flag material. Thursday afternoon, eyelets were placed in the flag in order that it may be flown from a staff.

The girls at the center have been working on the flag for over a month, under the direction of Mrs. Paul Rowland, head of the home economics department. The flag will be sent to the South Park N. Y. A. Center in Pittsburgh, it has-ing been made for the resident boys center there. The flag will be placed on public display at the Epworth Methodist church Sunday, when it will be hoisted to the big flag pole at the corner of Butler avenue and East Washington street.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET IN WARD CHURCH

Girl Scouts of Troop 25, held a meeting in the basement of the Mahoning Methodist church, Wednesday evening. Marian Unangst, assistant leader, conducted the meeting. Reports on the rookie sale were heard during the session, and according to Miss Unangst the report was quite favorable.

A period of games was provided for entertainment before the meeting closed.

SENIOR GIRLS CLUB HAS DANCE THURSDAY

Members of the Senior Girls club of the Seventh Ward Community Center, sponsored an enjoyable dance at the Center, Thursday evening.

James Cardella, Center supervisor, was in charge of the program. Friends of the club members were invited guests at the affair.

According to Mr. Cardella, a social program was arranged to follow the dancing.

WILL ENTERTAIN GOSPEL TEAM AT CHURCH ON SUNDAY

According to Rev. John E. Myers, Jr., pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, the Christian Endeavor Societies of the church will entertain members of Westminister College Gospel team Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, in the church. The Gospel Team members will take part in the evening church program, also.

BITS OF NEWS IN WARD AREA

The new surface that was placed on the Mt. Jackson road, between Mahoningtown and the top of the Mt. Jackson hill, just before winter set in stood the cold spell rather well. So far no holes of any kind have developed in the surface.

Moving the New Castle Junction depot of the Pennsylvania railroad nearer to Montgomery avenue, will be welcomed by many persons residing in the district. Company officials are at present contemplating such a move.

Persons have already begun to apply at the city disposal plant, just outside the Seventh ward for garden plots in the city-owned lots near the plant.

Members of the Beaver Patrol of Boy Scout Troop 4 are working hard to have all members in Scout camp this coming summer. Various money making schemes have been worked out by the boys, it is learned.

There was a small grass fire on the hillside above Atlantic avenue, near North Liberty street, Thursday afternoon. Persons residing in the neighborhood put the fire out before it covered much territory.

TO SEE THE NEWS
Members of the Beaver Patrol of Boy Scout Troop 4, will make a tour of The News plant Tuesday afternoon, April 1, according to an announcement made today by the patrol scribe, Paul A. Reed.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Pellagra is a deficiency disease due to lack of vitamin B. Any reasonable diet contains sufficient vitamin B for safety. Vitamin B is found in lean meat, milk and eggs.

Pellagra is a weakening disease, with digestive disorder. Eradication of pellagra is a problem of education.

Even among lowest income groups it is avoidable.

Surveys were recently made in two groups of low income families. One was a rural group, where milk and fresh eggs were available. The other a mining group, living on store foods.

The rural group, accepting instruction in pellagra disappeared. The mining group did not seek knowledge and pellagra prevails.

A group may be able to buy better foods yet not choose wisely.

FIRE THREATENS BAPTIST CHURCH

Prompt Discovery Of Blaze In Ventilator Shaft Averts Serious Blaze

What might have developed into a disastrous fire at the First Baptist church Thursday evening was averted when some young ladies who had a meeting in the basement of the church, discovered some sparks descending in a ventilator in a corner of the room about 9:15 o'clock. They had been attracted to the spot when they heard noises of something dropping.

They immediately notified the janitor, Paul Barbour, who in turn got Paul Fombelle, one of the trustees, who was present at a meeting just dismissed, on the first floor.

On investigation in the attic they found that the sparks were coming from a timber burning there. This timber supports the pulleys that operate a large raising door between the main auditorium and the Sunday school room.

Mr. Barbour and Mr. Fombelle immediately secured a fire extinguisher and put out the blaze. They also called out the fire department, who found the two had done a good job.

Had the young ladies not found the evidence of fire, all those present would have soon gone home and the fire would have had full sway. It is believed to have started from sparks from the chimney dropping down onto the timber.

The first glass milk bottles used in the United States appeared in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1878.

EXPOSITION AIDS ARMY

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25—The 1915 Panama Pacific Exposition at San Francisco is doing its bit in the present national defense drive.

The Army, under provisions of the 1927 deed which thoughtfully provided such action in event of war or national emergency, has taken back the Palace of Fine Arts, sole remaining building of the old Fair. The Army is turning it into a medical supply depot.

Miss Harriet Nye Married Thursday

Becomes Bride Of Edgar Waterfield At Church Ceremony At Lilyville

ELLWOOD CITY, March 28.—The Lilyville Church of God was the scene of a lovely wedding on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when Miss Harriet Nye, daughter of Mrs. Mary Nye, Fomell, was united in marriage to Edgar Waterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waterfield of Riverview.

The single ring ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock by Rev. L. A. Lightfritz, pastor, in the presence of many relatives and friends.

To the strains of the Bridal march from Lohengrin, the bride party assembled before the altar, which was colorfully decorated with ferns, gladioli and carnations. The organist was Miss Mary Aiken, New Castle, and Miss L. A. Lightfritz sang two beautiful selections, "Because" and "O Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her oldest brother, Hilday Nye, the bride was beautiful in a pale blue gown fashioned with a broad bodice and a long white skirt. A tulle veil and an arm cluster of white roses tied with blue forget-me-nots completed her becoming ensemble.

Miss Grace Nye was her sister's maid of honor and she wore a lovely peach gown and her flowers were roses and sweet peas.

Allen Smith served his cousin as best man.

After the congratulatory period, a wedding dinner was served to the bride party and guests at the bride's home. The table was centered with a large cake adorned with a tiny bride and groom and the rest of the appointments were in pink. The dinner was served by the bride's sister, Mrs. Alma Ritter, and aunt, Mrs. Howard Wright.

HOW CAN REALLY FINE COFFEE POSSIBLY COST SO LITTLE?

First, let's get clear as to quality. A&P Coffees are literally the pick of the plantations. We know, because they are selected right at the plantations by our own resident staff in South America . . . and A&P is the only grocer that keeps its own experts in the largest coffee producing districts of the southern continent. They're on hand to get first choice.

And right there, you find the clue to why such really fine coffee can sell for so little. From plantation through every step—testing, shipping, blending, roasting, packaging and selling—A&P Coffee is under our own control.

This not only assures top quality but also eliminates many extra handling charges and in-between profits that usually increase the cost of coffees. All savings A&P shares with you in the form of amazingly low prices.

There are three A&P Coffee blends to suit every taste; Eight O'Clock, mild and mellow; Red Circle, rich and full-bodied and Bokar, vigorous and winery. Try your favorite blend today.

It begins to appear that the challenge of the Beaver county court house attaches will not go unheeded. Register and Recorder Orville Potter, who is the manager of the Lawrence county court house team has signed a group of keepers who ought to be in the A.B.C. tournament.

Thus far the team is composed of Henry Wetlich, Attorney William Coban, Hugh Graham, Frank O. Moretti, Ralph Cooper and Judge Charles Matthews, Jr. That's six players and a bowling team is five but Potter wants to carry a spare just in case.

Manager Potter is considering a training table for spring training that will be different. Instead of the usual training table he is considering a smorgasbord. The Scandinavians go for smorgasbord and look at the athletes those countries have turned out.

We have need for a dash of talcum to hide the blushes. Yesterday we had Judge and Mrs. W. Walter Braham returning from Florida. We were only several hundred miles east. They have returned, but from New Orleans and Natchez, Miss.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, Henry Becker, guardian of Ada Gelon asks a divorce for his ward from Louis Gelon. The litigants are from New Castle. The couple was married in New York, August 13, 1938. Indignities to person are charged.

Most of the court house offices this week are sporting bunches of pussy willows. Its a harbinger of spring we hope.

State Timber Is Worth Millions

Survey Reveals Merchantable Timber On State Lands Worth Over Eleven Millions

COST TO STATE
FOUR MILLIONS

HARRISBURG, March 28.—An inventory of timber in state forests, comprising over 1,600,000 acres, has been completed, Secretary of Forest and Waters G. Albert Stewart announced.

The results of the survey, said Stewart, revealed that there are 2,263,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber on state forest land, having a value of $11,315,000, while the state paid approximately $4,000,000 for the total acreage.

Stewart explained that about 65,000 acres have been treated by improvement cuttings while the entire acreage has been cleaned of dead timber, especially along the 6,000 miles of highways, threading through forest lands. Nursery production of seedlings during the past two years totaled over 34,000,000 compared with 25,000,000 for the previous two years.

The department of forests and waters has inventoried all department-owned buildings; simplified its accounting system; purchased additional equipment for the 3,900 fire wardens, and organized fire patrols.

As to flood control precautions, Stewart praised the cooperation between the state and the federal government in the building of dams, and paid tribute to the federal-state flood forecasting service which collects and makes public information concerning the condition of waterways.

During the flood seasons, a weekly bulletin is issued on the snow depth, and ice thickness of the streams. This data, said Stewart, is collected by 167 members of the field personnel.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Makes Progress

Goal Of Five Thousand Boxes In Girl Scout Sale Is Near, Chairman States

"The Girl Scout cookie sale seems to be an increasingly popular event judging by first reports from troops," Miss Martha Bigley, chairman, said today. "Scouts everywhere have been given a cordial welcome, and orders have been coming in fast." Miss Bigley stated that reports indicated that the goal of five thousand boxes necessary to assure the organization a balanced budget was in sight and the remaining few days would surely see it passed.

Troop 7, with Mrs. Travis French, leader, is momentarily in the lead with 600 orders to its credit. Following closely are Troop 1, Mrs. LeRoy Shoaff, leader; Troop 15, Mrs. Truman Hastings, leader; Troop 20, Ann Colella, leader; Troop 12, Mildred Lusk, leader. Other troops passing their quota are Troops 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 13, 22, 23, 24, and 25.

Women Seeking Jobs In Defense

American Women Willing To Do Their Part In Defense Industries

LARGE NUMBER HAVE APPLIED

By KENNETH M. SCHEIBEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—American women by the thousands are lining up at factory gates for jobs in defense industries, it was reported today, and "three fourths of them are already equipped with various necessary skills."

The Woman Worker, official organ of the Women's Bureau of the Labor Department, said 373,700 women have applied for factory work.

"Without doubt," the publication predicted, "the employment agencies will fit these workers into the jobs desired."

"Almost every factory is a potential producer of defense materials, and a long view indicates the importance of more specific training of women as demand increases for their services, especially in types of work for which they are eminently adaptable but which may be new to them."

Break Up Of Women Workers

As far back as last spring—when Hitler's armies invaded the low countries and America roused herself to a vigorous drive to rearm—a Bureau of Employment Security Survey, the department said, revealed women experienced in industries related to defense, as follows:

Electrical machinery, 17,600; other machinery, 6,700; metal and metal products, 14,000; chemicals, 9,000; automobiles and their equipment, 6,700. No figures were given as to the geographical distribution of women in various defense industries.

In metal-factory work, thousands of women are experienced in rolling and stamping, machine work, filing and grinding, welding, flame-cutting, tinsmithing, tool making, die sinking, blacksmithing, forging, molding and other fabricating work.

The survey also revealed that women in three great Middle Atlantic industrial states were seeking employment in defense industries. Contracts signed up called for nuts and bolts, wire, steel rods, tube fillings, machines or tools such as lathes, cranes, pliers, drills; airplane parts, munitions and machining of shells.

Status In Middle West

Women in the middle west also applied for work in metal plants. In contracts let in these states, motor parts, wheel and brake assemblies, aircraft engines and parts, and small tools for heavier machinery such as presses, bridge cranes, locomotives and teletype machines were called for. The same situation existed in the New England states with respect to metal working jobs.

Women now are seeking employment in manufacture of electrical machinery and appliances—the same labor saving equipment which they utilize in their homes.

Other manufacturing fields in which women are proficient are scientific and professional instrument making, chemical goods and transportation equipment.

Should war reach America's shores, a "variety of other services will be required of women—especially if men are withdrawn from civilian services," the department said.

Three Towns Are Involved During Single Burglary

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Cal., Mar. 28.—Police of San Francisco East Bay communities are busily thumbing through legal tomes to determine exactly which department some unapprehended burglars belong to—if and when caught.

It all started when burglars broke into the plant of the Grove Regulator Co., a plot which the municipal limits of three cities trisect. They committed malicious mischief in Emeryville, by throwing stones through the windows on that side to see if there was a watchman on the premises. Then they went through a door on the Berkeley side, and walked through Oakland to the office safe in Emeryville.

Authorities wish the entire matter hadn't come up, because when the burglars got there they found the safe unlocked and without any money in it anyway.

Business Shows Little Change

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 28.—With steel and coal production still going up, business in the Pittsburgh district continued last week at the high level of recent months, the general index showing little change from the previous week, the bureau of research of the University of Pittsburgh reported today.

The bureau's index stood at 140.9 per cent of the 1923-25 average. Increases were reported in many different industrial activities, but some of the gains were less than normal seasonal expectation. Steel output increased last week, and coal production rose to the greatest tonnage since the last week of March, 1937, when union contract negotiations were pending, just like today.

Marshal Feuzi Cakmak reviews his airmen.

With German armies as close as they can get without actually crossing her borders, Turkey today is expected to enter the war on the side of Great Britain and Greece. If Germany takes one step further in the Balkans. The guardian of the Dardanelles has an army of 1,000,000 men, with 7,000,000 more in reserve. She has a nucleus of an up-to-date, mechanized, motorized army, but reports indicate that she has not enough of this modern equipment to supply her entire force. The Turks, however, are among the most valiant fighters in the world. In the air, Turkey has a moderately strong fleet of planes, including some manufactured in the United States.

Polish Falcons Will Battle Gersons In Class A Final, Scorpions Meet Genevans

Intense interest is being shown in the finals of the fourth annual city-county basketball tournament that will be staged on Saturday evening at the George Washington High floor. The tournament committee announced today the securing of Coach Greyer Washabaugh of Westminster college to make the presentation of the trophies and medals to the champions.

The class A championship game will be played first, bringing together the Scorpions and Genevans at 7:30 o'clock. Both teams have had to wade through a lot of stiff opposition to reach the finals. This should be a lively battle all the way. Both teams are highly confident of ultimate victory.

Each team having won a game from the other this season on their respective home floors will cause a heated engagement the entire way. This "rubber" game is the one that the fans have been waiting for. The lineup of each team will be studied with stars of the highest caliber.

"Circus-Like" Lad To Return Monday

Muddy Kurtz Who Combines Burlesque And Punches Meets Bupka

HARRISON-WARGO BATTLE INVITING

Muddy Kurtz, the "laugh of the ring" is coming Monday night, armed with a lot of new tricks and he believes his "fistic circling" will be too much for youthful Eddie Bupka. Vestaburg, middleweight, who scored a "kayo" in his how-do-you-bout here a few weeks hence. They box in The Arena.

The last time the McKees Rock rope-player, juker and whatnot battled here, he emerged on the short end of the fighting. In fact, his foe was keen to Muddy's stuff, paid him back in like tactics and when Kurtz ended up, he was a non-grinning chastened lad.

Possibility exists that the Jefferson A. C., despite the fact that Messrs. Kurtz and Bupka can fight better than the average amateurs may send them off in the first bout to work up the fans humor and fistic appetite if for nothing else.

The main bout, Marion Klingensmith vs. Regis O'Brien, middleweights ought to be an eye-filler. Marion is a clouter and Regis a jabber. Regis is faster on his feet than Philomatic Marion but when it comes to comparing "socks" Klingensmith has a nice edge on O'Brien.

Still Goes To School.

If everything is true that they say about Young Watson of Vestaburg, this city's Russell Baxter, who, by the way, won't graduate from Ne-Ca-Hi until June, will have his hands full. So far Baxter has billed all his foes for either a knockout or a decision. It is time he received a thorough testing.

The Leisure boys, Lester and Baby Face, the former experienced and the latter a novice will oppose Charlie McLaughlin, McKeesport, 147 and Bobby Bell, 130, of the same place. Les has a beautiful right hand but needs to sharpen his left jab. Baby Face started well. He scored a "kayo" in his first battle.

Round-House Billy Reale, as rugged and tough as of Hickory, himself, will oppose Tod Cole of Brownsville, in a 160½ pound fight and either Sparky Jarocki or Sammy Morris of Vestaburg will swap blows with Charlie Rivers, Pittsburgh, a 175 pounder boxing here for the first time.

There should be more than ordinary class in the Nick Wargo, McKeesport vs. Luther Harrison, Uniontown bout. The former is a Diamond Belt and the latter a Uniontown News-Standard featherweight champion. They didn't win their titles stalling, hence fans can anticipate a real topnotch amateur battle.

The amateur boxing bouts have been sanctioned by the state athletic commission and the amateur athletic union. All bouts are scheduled for three rounds. The referee and judges will not be named until a few minutes before the show. Meanwhile the amateurs are training vigorously hopeful of winning.

Memphis, Tenn. Flu or no flu, Bill Robinson likes to hunt. With fever at 102 degrees, he waded waist-deep in water and, he said, "we really got some ducks—the limit." He contracted pneumonia but recovered.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Ancil Hoffman, manager of Maxie Baer is balking. He has informed Mike Jacobs, the Mr. of Boxing, that should Maxie beat Lou Nova, he wants a match with Billy Conn prior to a meeting with Joe Louis. According to Ancil, Baer would knock out Billy within five rounds. However, Max has Lou to overcome before he worries about Conn and Louis.

Five technical kayoes enlivened the opening of the National Collegiate Boxing championship tournament at State College yesterday as favorites, with two exceptions, advanced. The upsets occurred when Verdayne John, Wisconsin, heavy-weight lost to Ed Cameron, Miami U and Lenny Bartone, Catholic U featherweight lost to Eddie Oursio of Southwestern Louisiana.

Non-denominational church basketball tournament will be held at Struthers, April 8-12, inclusive. Washington has bought Steve Sundt, 30, from the Yankees. Pauline Betz, Los Angeles, won the women's national indoor tennis title by defeating Dorothy May Bundy, 6-1, 10-12, 6-2, at Brookline, Mass. Notre Dame's net revenue from athletics in 1940, was $211,915.

Johnny Knolla, Creighton's famous football star, has improved steadily. As a sophomore he gained 977 yards, as a junior, 1104, and as a senior, 1420.

Bob Froude, an end, will captain the 1941 Navy football team, replacing Captain-elect Ed Sims, found to be ineligible for further competition.

Sport shorties:—Tennessee University reportedly has the inside rail on Al Bucci and "Lindy" Lauro, greatly sought ex-New Castle High football aces. From a reliable source, this corner has learned that Hugh Faust, the Volunteers' freshman coach, visited here recently and interviewed the aforementioned pair and Joe Audino, another "Hurricane" product of merit. . . .

Tennessee seems particularly interested in Bucci, the long-legged end who was named on the All-Pennsylvania scholastic eleven last season. Lauro, the swashbuckling fullback, has been on the Vols' list for sometime. Audino, a tiger-like lineman, falls short of the Tennessee standard, being a bit too young and not heavy enough. Bucci and Lauro will probably spend the Easter vacation in Knoxville. . . .

Frank Tamburini, the farmers' friend, is continuing to spread a bit of sunshine around the countryside. The Oak street sportman whiles away his leisure time destroying such pests as hawks, owls and crows. Frank stopped in yesterday, proudly displaying two gigantic owls brought down on Tom Cooper's farm, between East Brook and Harlanburg. Tamburini does it all for the sake of what he calls fun. . . .

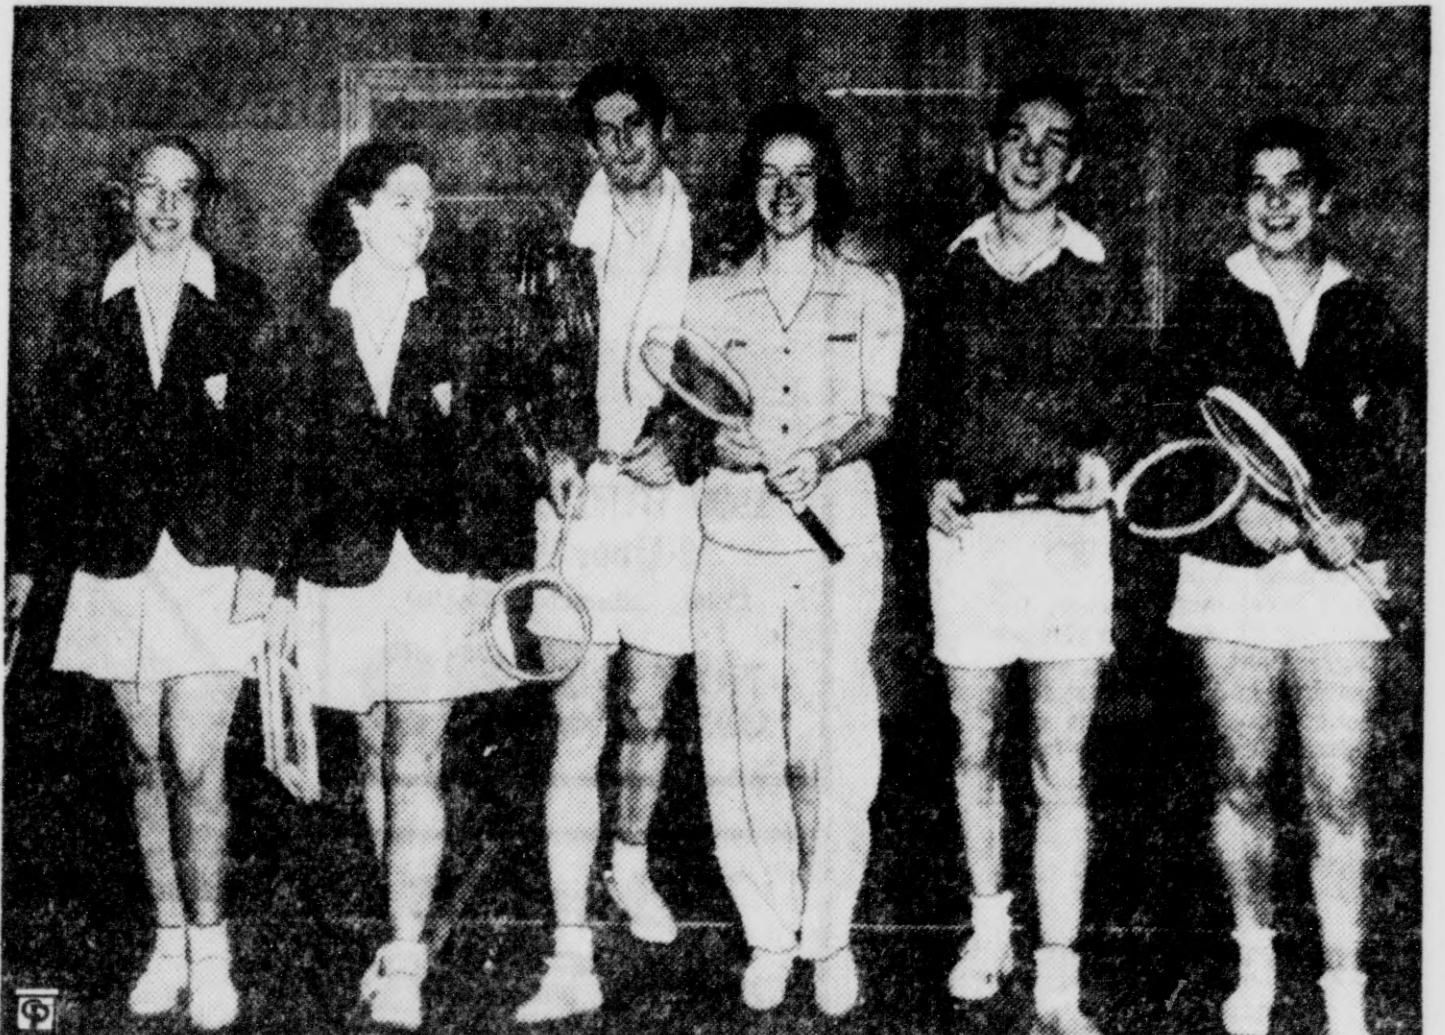

In a little more than two years of tracking down the various pests, Tamburini has bagged no less than 40 owls, about 20 hawks and scores of crows. Farmers being troubled by any of the pests need only inform the Oak street sharp shooter. From there on, Tamburini lays the ground work and continues until he eliminates the enemy. Since there is no bounty for the catch, Tamburini is among the few willing to help his fellowman expecting nothing in return. . . .

American Association League teams are sharpening their clubs for the impending grind. The A.A. foes start blasting away on Thursday, April 17. . . . There doesn't seem to be much use trying in Clay Bryant's case. The Chicago Cub pitcher, who has been troubled by a mysterious arm ailment for two seasons, unwrapped his flipper Wednesday. He tossed two frames, allowing six hits, walking two and dishing out seven runs. . . .

Dom DiMaggio recently took a severe panning for bunting in a recent game. 'Tis considered a breach to bunt during spring training, tends to make fielders look slow and awkward. Consequently, players can this phase of the game while swinging around the grape fruit belts. Can't understand why everybody's getting hot and bothered about the Brownies. Same team as 1940 plus a lot of pitchers who couldn't win for better balanced clubs. . . .

SUNDAY BALL IN LAWRENCE LOOP

League Also Decides To Adopt Shaughnessy System This Year

Lawrence County Baseball league officials and club managers at a meeting last night in the Sport Goods store made two decisions: (1) they will play Sunday baseball and (2) adopt the Shaughnessy system.

The league did not play on Sundays last season. They believe that Sunday baseball will aid the loop, hence a decision in favor of it.

After the pennant has been won the first and third teams and the second and fourth teams will play and the winners will meet. There will be a division of the gate receipts which will inspire hot competition throughout the season.

It was said that so far as known the Selective Service act has not seriously hurt the Lawrence loop. So far only one player, Andy Fontana, pitcher and outfielder, Wampum Medusa, has been called to the colors. No doubt more will be called shortly.

The iron man among football centers last season must have been Frank Fineran of Cornell. He missed only six minutes in eight games, and these were in the first three games of the season when Coach Carl Shively was experimenting with reserves for the snapper back post.

Gabby Hartnett Proving Tonic For Sad Giants

Aging Catcher What Doctor
Ordered For Befuddled
Giants, Bill Terry
Happy Again

PLANS TO CATCH
ABOUT 50 GAMES

By JACK SINGER
(International News Service Writer)
MIAMI, March 28.—The New York Giants, who have found everything but themselves this spring, uncovered a fine, new "rookie" catcher here today. His name is Charles Leo Hartnett, most people call him "Gabby", and all he lacks to blossom out as a major league star is a little more experience. For Hartnett has only caught a total of 1756 major league games and all he needs now is another year of seasoning.

The most practical place for the "kid" to acquire this vital experience would be on the Giants' Jersey City farm, but Manager Bill Terry, a shrewd observer of talent, believes that Hartnett is ready for the big leagues this season.

Will Be Kept
"We'll keep him around, anyway, and give him a thorough trial," said Terry, cleverly concealing his enthusiasm over his latest "find," which almost rivals his historic discovery of that other current Giant "rookie" sensation, Harry (The Horse) Danning.

Seriously, Hartnett is the wonder of the Florida spring training grind. Everyone wonders what keeps him going. Fat and forty and 19-years a major league star, good-natured old Gabby still stoops to conquer. This fugitive from a wax museum squatted behind the plate for nine full innings yesterday as the Giants squeezed out a 9-to-8 decision over the Cincinnati Reds. Despite the fact his abused old bones and muscles groaned and moaned and rattled in agonizing protest, O! Man Mose didn't have to be lifted to his weary feet with the derrick which Terry always has parked nearby for just such an emergency.

Hartnett insists he will catch 50 games for the Giants in 1941. If he succeeds in this noble effort, he will be an inspiration to the old and decrepit all over the world. The next thing you know, Sam Riddle will be announcing a comeback for Man O' War, Jim Jeffries will don the gloves again and challenge Joe Louis.

What Giants Needed
Bill Terry, who acts like he wrote the popular song hit "I'll Never Smile Again," could stand a blood transfusion from good-natured, gay Gabby. Old "Tomato Face," laughing and clowning and kidding with that ubiquitous smile on his lips, has given the glum, staid, stoic Giants a new effervescence. His grin is infectious and Horace Stoneham couldn't have hired a better press agent.

The Giants, devoid of color and precious humor, long have needed a court jester to capture the fancy of the Polo Grounds fan. Where the sober Terry failed, the hilarious Hartnett, with humanize a starchy baseball property. The nearest approach to ancient Gabby as a comedian on the Giants is Harry Danning, who is always good for a laugh in left field. ## COUPLE OF CUB "LOULUS"

Lou Novikoff and Lou Stringer

You're going to hear a lot about this pair of Chicago Cubs this year so you might as well get used to seeing their mugs in the paper. At the left is Lou Novikoff, called the "Mad Russian." Lou was so "mad" last year with Los Angeles that he batted a mighty .364. At the right is Lou Stringer, sensational second baseman, also from the Angels. The two are training at Santa Catalina Island, Cal.

Shenango Squads Feted At School

Banquet Given To Members
Of Football And Basketball Teams

LETTERS AWARDED TO TEAM PLAYERS

Shenango high school locked the door on its 1940-41 football and basketball season Thursday night when the annual dinner was held in the school gymnasium. A few speeches were heard, letters were distributed to the athletes who had earned them, several reels of motion pictures of football games were run off, and Coach Frank Nocera was given a traveling bag. Not as a suggestion however but as a token of esteem.

Both squads, football and basketball were present. In addition, Supervising Principal Glenn Johnson, Principal Edward Keenan and School Directors L. M. Christy and George Body were guests of honor.

Dinner At 6:45.
At 6:45 dinner was served with the meal prepared by women of the Parent-Teachers Association and served by girls of the junior class. The invocation was pronounced by Principal Keenan and pep singing was led by Supervising Principal Glenn Johnson. At the close of the meal Mr. Johnson introduced Robert King, toastmaster of the evening.

The addresses were brief. Mr. Keenan, Mr. Christy and Bart Richards spoke, each of them paying tribute to the sportsmanship and fighting spirit of the teams during the year. Then came a few words from some of the lads who were responsible for the teams showing. Bob Denny and John Dudash, co-captains of the football team, spoke and were followed by Bob Pitzer and Tommy O'Neill, co-captains of the basketball team.

Coach Frank Nocera was the final speaker. He has guided athletics at Shenango for six years and has built up a spirit of sportsmanship in the school that is commendable. After reviewing the record of the teams for the year he presented the boys with letters.

Football And Basketball.

Of the basketball squad the following were given letters. Co-captains Bob Pitzer and Tommy O'Neill, Guy Christy, Walter Brunton, Walter Druschel, Mike Stoltka, Andy Semanski, Walter Hoover. As a closing event Bob Denny presented Coach Nocera with a traveling bag. In his response Mr. Nocera indicated that he might be needing the bag before next football season rolls around but urged the teams to carry on their heads-up spirit no matter whether he was on the job next season or not.

The dinner was a fitting closing to the athletic season for the school. Shenango did not win all its games in either sport but it did give a good account of itself. In football the team won three, tied two and lost two. In basketball it won 12 and lost six.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Pennsylvania R. R. Is Firm Spot—Aviation and Motors Are Mixed

(International News Service) NEW YORK, March 28.—The stock market turned quiet and irregular toward midday today with uncertainty over the next move in the Balkan crisis a restraining factor.

Pennsylvania R. R. was a firm spot following the quick distribution yesterday of the British holdings of the stock.

Some irregularity cropped out on steel after a higher opening. National sagged and Bethlehem lost an early gain. U. S. Steel was active at times and held a small gain.

While most rail stocks showed a firm tone, Union Pacific turned weak and lost around 2 points to a new low for the year.

Allied was up a point in the chemicals and DuPont lost as much.

Utilities were inclined to sag. Most coppers were slightly better. Aviation and motors were mixed.
